Jim Ferry is a highly experienced and respected obstetrician in the northern beaches.

His rooms are in Manly.

He started the iconic “manly beach babies”

He has delivered around 10,000 babies both here and in the United Kingdom.

He is former head of department at the Mater Hospital and at Manly.

He is an expert in complicated pregnancies but really enjoys simple ones too.

You will be treated with empathy and professionalism and hopefully some humour as well.

Jim’s practice is a teaching practice as well and we help train medical students, midwives and junior trainee doctors.

Jim has also had significant overseas training.
