Dr Castle is a general and trauma orthopaedic surgeon based on the Northern Beaches of Sydney, where she grew up. She has extensive trauma experience including hand surgery, and also performs both knee and hip replacements.

Christine is involved in basic skills training being a RACS ASSET committee member, the team that developed the RACS skills course (ASSET) and textbook (Fundamental Skills for Surgery). Also, with the RACS Global Health Team (since 2012), has assisted in development of the national basic surgical skills program in Myanmar. She is actively involved in the Warringah District Medical Association, since 1999 being a past president and current vice president.

Christine still plays soccer and is always looking for new players.
